Voters Favored School Bonds By Big Majority

The voters of the Canyon Independent School District approved the $75,000 bond issue by a vote of 243 in favor of the bonds to 82 votes opposed to issueing the bonds.

While only 325 voters took time to go to the polls, the majority of almost three to one was impressive and indicated the willingness of the citizens to tax themselves to improve the school plant.

During the campaign the only objections came from those who thought that the school trustees had not approached the subject in the right mannor. It was advocated by many that the first step should have been the consolidation of all districts of the county which are sending children to the Independent School district, joining this district. And second that before serious steps were taken to enlarge the school plant that a plan looking toward the establishment of a central high school in Canyon rather than the operation of two high school in a town as small as Canyon.

Many counties of the Panhandle have consolidated school districts during the past year, in order to give improved facilities in the independent school district.

The school trusteees have been studying these problems and will probably make announcement of their plans in the near future.

Due to the fact that the three buildings from the Amarillo Army Air Field must be moved by May 12, work was started at once clearing the ground and getting ready to run the concrete foundation for the three buildings which will be moved to the campus.

Owing to the small bond issue, the state Education Department is money will be available in a short expected to buy the isue, and the time.

Miss Erdman Sells New Novel to the Dodd-Mead Co.

LOULA GRACE ERDMAN

Miss Loula Grace Erdman has written and sold another book.

Author of the prize-winning Red Book novel, "Years of the Locust" Miss Erdman has completed a second novel and will sign a contract with Dodd-Mead Publishing Co. next week in New York. It has been set tentatively for fall publication.

Having been granted a leave of absence from her creative writing classes at West Texas State College, Miss Erdman will leave this week. First she will go to Fort Worth for two talks at the Writers' Roundup there. Then she will go to New York for conferences with her publisher. While there she will speak before creative writing classes at Columbia University.

From New York Miss Erdman will go to Washington, where she will address the National Pen Women's convention. Then she will return by way of Fort Worth, where she has a speaking engagement at TCU.

Miss Erdman, who reached sudden fame last year when her novel "Years of The Locust" won the $10,000 Red Book prize, and was adopted by several book clubs, says her new book has not been definitely titled. Its setting, like that of "Years of the Locust," is rural Missouri; but, says Miss Erdman, the story is entirely different.

"It cornerns young people," she explains. "I feel it is a more mature book, and more smoothly put together."

In addition Miss Erdman has written two other books: "Separate Star" and "Fair Is the Morning."

School Trustees Greatful For Vote In Bond Election

The trustees of the Canyon Independent School District take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation to the citizens of this district who voted in the bond election last Saturday. The favorable returns of this bond election indicate clearly the desire of Canyon citizens for providing adequately the immediate needs which had been brought to the attention of the public by recent surveys of interested civic organizations.

The board realizes that there should be developed a long range program, which anticipates a growth of the school. It is acknowledged that this district, because of its size and present property valuation is unable to support a new and larger high school unit, which was advocated by many of those who opposed this small bond issue which was just carried.

The type of school system we have depends upon what you, the tax payer and voter desires. This was indicated last week by the intense interest in and indorsement of the school improvement program by the progressive thinking of our school patrons.

Appreciation is also expressed to the organizations of the Canyon Parent-Teachers Association, the Lions Club, and the Rotary Club for their efforts in bringing to the attention of the public the urgent needs of our school system.

Canyon has long been considered the educational center of the North Plains, as is evidenced by the fact that many families have moved and are now moving here to take advantage of these educational facilities.

It shall be the purpose of the Board of Trustees to continue to maintain this high educational level in the public schools of Canyon in spite of mounting operational costs.

Mrs. Bob Black and daughter of Quannah spent last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. C. Middleton .Mr. Black and sons joined her Sunday to visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black. They returned to Quannah Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Neal Jennings and daughter spent the weenk end with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jennings, in Lorenzo.

"State of the Institution" Talk Was Made Friday Night To Citizens By Dr. James P. Cornette of WTST

Only 53 persons responded to the call for a public forum discussion of local problems held Friday night at the district court room. Delbert Lowes, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Dr. James P. Cornette talked on conditions at West Texas State. He termed the discussion a "Report on the State of the Institution." Dr. Cornette expressed the hope that as the years go by this shall be an annual affair which will be attended by a large part of the community. During the four months that he has been in Canyon, Dr. Cornette stated that he had been busy getting acquainted with the area. He appreciates the attitude of the people of this area, and their desire to make the very best institution of West Texas State.

Many citizens had asked Dr. Cornette how they could best serve the institution. He recommended that all become better ecquainted with the college, and what has been accomplished; to be tolerant in their judgment, and sympathetic.

Since this is a state institution it must serve all classes of people. If it is honest in its job, it cannot please all people at all times.

Dr. Cornette stated that the people were entitled to know what was going on in the institution. "I have no secrets ,except those which affect the professional or ethical standing of individuals."

Dr. Cornette stated that he was working on the budget for the biannium starting Sept. 1, 1949. This year wil lend "a little in the black, not a large balance, but we are thankful for this balance."

A promotional program is underway which he hopes will bring more students next fall. This is the first time in 38 years that the second semester showed a net increase over the first semester. So far as Dr. Cornette knew, West Texas State was the only college in Texas, state or denominational, which showed a second semester increase. "We hope for a slight increase next fall," stated the speaker.

Pointing to the interest shown in work here, Dr. Cornette pointed out that 10,000 high school students have visited the campus in recent months to engage in various activities. More than 15,000 persons have registered at the museum since January 1.

A large hanger at the Pampa Air Field has been alloted to West Texas State, but so far no funds are available to transport the hanger and remodel it for athletic purposes.

An extensive radio program is planned for next fall.

A state supported, regionally endowed college is the dream of Dr. Cornette. He pointed out to the University of Virginia as an example.

Dr. R. A. Neblett explained the work of the West Texas State Activities Association, which raised $12,753.50 last year for support of the athletic program and the band. He pointed to the great success which was being achieved in both fields. 2300 more seats were erected on the east side last year, and plans are underway to add 2300 more seats before the opening football game this fall. Other Panhandle towns are making large contributions to this fund. The people want to see first class college football, and look to the buffaloes to furnish it.

In time the athletic department will play its own running expenses and the Activities Association will then turn to other fields to help build the college. Local subscriptions are being taken to this fund.

Baptists Plan Student Center Near WT Campus

Mr. W. F. Howard of Dallas, Head of the Department of Student Work of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and Dr. J. P. Boone, Dean of Bible Chairs operated by that department, were in Canyon last week to inspect the property owned by the Texas Baptist Convention adjacent to the college in Canyon, and to check up on the work of the Bible chair which is one of eleven such now being operated adjacent to state colleges in Texas.

Mr. Howard and Dr. Boone conferred with a committee of local men from the Baptist Church and the college with reference to plans for the future, and at the request of the Canyon group plans are to be drawn for a permanent student center on the property now owned on Fourth Avenue south of the College canpus.

The army buildings recently moved to the property will be sold at once, and the residence now being used will probably be used for another year, but the local committee hopes to see a permanent building on the grounds by the end of 1949. The proposed building will house a student center, two offices, class rooms for Bible instruction, and certain other facilities, including a library of religious literature.

Miss Eula V. Potter is the teacher of Bible and by agreement with college authorities, the courses carry college credit and are subject to regulations of the college as other credit courses. Pastor Roy L. Johnson, a member of the Executive Board of Texas Baptists, is the local representative for the Baptist office in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Winstead returned Monday from Siloam Springs, Arkansas. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Winstead back to their home last week. They brought back lucious strawberries which were picked from the garden of Mrs. P. V. Winstead.

Mrs. Ruby Davis of San Matco, Calif., is spending a month's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Zachry.

Many beautiful MOTHER'S DAY cards are available at Warwick's.

Cold Wave Failed To Bring Needed Rain To the Plains

Following high temperatures of last week, a cold wave swept over the Panhandle Monday.

However, no moisture was brought by the north wind.

The weather man predicted on Friday that conditions looked favorable for rain on Saturday and Sunday, but no moisture fell.

Many wheat farmers are plowing up their wheat land as prospects are very poor for a crop. It is believed that at least 50,000 acres of volunteer wheat will be turned under because of the lack of moisture.

Editorials

We see that a couple of teachers in the Amarillo school were hauled before the school board on the charge of biased teaching on current subjects. It seems that one of the teachers has taken her clue from a textbook written by an arch foe of newspapers. This text proclaimed that newspapers were influenced and controlled by big advertisers and corporations. The other teacher was accused of teaching Communism. Both were exonorated by the school board. But it is likely that they have learned a valuable lesson—not to dabble with theories of which they know nothing. The first teacher took the word of one man; which is always a very, very weak position, especially when that man knows nothing of his subject. No doubt the second teacher was honest in trying to discuss Communism, but since the subject is dynamite under present conditions, and few people know how to present the subject, she had better let it alone. In other words, since we are living in a age of trials and tribulations, better keep your feet on the ground and not go off the deep end without knowing where you will come up.

The News has received a shipment of news print. We have been promising an historical edition about the first of September when Dr. J. A. Hill retires after 38 years of service at West Texas State. We can safely say now that the edition will be published. The edition may not be as complete as we would like to have it, since paper is secured for only a limited edition. The community owes this recognition to Dr. Hill for his untiring efforts in building West Texas State during his 30 years as President of the institution. Mrs. Hill is giving full co-operation and we are calling upon other citizens to assist in this edition.

You probably shudder when you think of the money that our government is spending with the view of keeping peace in the world, but this money is small in comparison to the billions which have been wasted on wars—past and future .Without American influence and wealth the world would soon revert to the prehistoric stone age. Maybe the world will learn ,before it is too late, that might does not make right. At any rate, the money that we are spending would be worthless if America should cease trying to save the world from the mistakes of war.

This is the week of clean up in Canyon. We note that a newspaper in South Texas declares that it is off these annual clean up campaigns. The paper says that is publishes the annual mayor's proclamation, and boosts for a real clean up campaign—and what happens—nothing! This will not be the case in Canyon. Citizens have been cooperating in the campaign. We hope that the campaign will be continued until Friday, and that good results will be achieved in the campaign. The campaign is directed by the Lions Club, with full co-operation of the city's trucks in hauling away the winter's accumulation of trash which will not burn.

America still wonders whether John L. Lewis is bigger than the government. He threatens to call a real strike when the miners' contract expires next month. Lewis insisted that he did not call a recent strike, but that the miners walked out because the owners refused to obey the provisions of the pension bill—which Lewis, himself, wants to operate.

When Canyon and Randall county observed our 50th Anniversary in 1939 a large number of people from Deaf Smith county joined in the celebration. Hereford and Deaf Smith county will observe the 50th anniversary of the founding of that county on May 8. Randall county will have a large delegation on hand to assist with this celebration. Good luck, neighbors ,as you start on your second half century.

State Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg will propose to abolish the state poll tax in the next session of the legislature. The Senator believes as a lot of other Texans, that we had just as well adopted the poll tax repeal measure. Texas and other poll tax states are going to be forced to abolish this tax, as a measure for voting, whether we like it or not.

George Peddy, candidate for U. S. Senator from Texas, says that Pappy O'Daniel will be his strongest opponent in the July primary. He dismisses Coke Stevenson as a has-been. Peddy ran a strong race 26 years ago on the anti-Klan ticket. So far there is no Klan issue in Texas.

A speaker in Canyon several months ago predicted that should the United Nations fail to keep law and order in Palestine that the Arabs would soon murder all of the Jews. It looks as if the speaker was a prophet. The Arabs are a war-like people, while the Jews have been devoted to commerce.

Wonder if J. E. McDonald will take the trouble to send out campaign dope this year? He has an aggressive opponent who is flooding the mails with political dope. Old Mac usually sits aside and says nothing, in spite of the hard fight made against him. He has held his post for 16 years.

Texas has a law which limits the campaign expenses of candidates for major offices to $10,000. Yet such candidates spend from $100,000 up. Who puts up the money, and pays the bills? Not the candidates. They cannot afford the high cost of Democracy.

CIO Phil Murray calls upon Americans to start a buyer's strike. Now just who started this spiral of increased cost of living? No sooner has CIO secured one boost in the cost of living than another is started.

Like Old Man River, Harold Stassen continues rollin' along. But just wait until the brass collars of GOP take over the National convention. Stassen will be relegated to at least second place on the ticket—if he is lucky to get that much recognition.

This is clean up week, and many bonfires over town are used to remove weeds and other trash which the city cannot haul away. A word of warning: Beware of fires. The prolonged drouth has made bonfires dangerous.

President Truman again is seeing Democratic members of Congress after a lapse of several weeks. The calling list, however, has yet to show that Senator Alben Barkley or Representative Sam Rayburn, Democratic leaders in Congress, have resumed their frequent White House visits.

Senator Robert Taft is reported to be losing favor with some business interests who, traditionally, are supposed to determine the choice of Republican presidential nominees. This group is rumored to have turned to Speaker Joseph Martin.

Ticklers — By George

"Butterfingers!"

George Kennan, the State Department's No. 1 brain-truster, and Under Secretary of the Army William Draper find it hard to agree on the future of Japan .Both returned from inspection trips to Tokyo with conflicting reports. Argument is over how much industry to dismantle for reparations. Mr. Draper favors more lenient treatment than Mr. Kennan.

American reparations policy in Germany refuses to settle down. Army officials and some State Department officials are for putting an end to plant dismantling in Germany now. Other State Department men argue that plans for too strong a Germany make France nervous an attitude that might prevent unified action in Western Germany. So far, nobody in Washington seems to be able to settle the argument.

Warren Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations ,hereafter is to speak on U. S. policy only after the White House approves the statement. When Mr. Austin announced the U. S. reversal of policy on Palestine a few weeks ago, the speech is reported to have gone to him directly from the State Department. Neither President Truman nor Secretary of State George Marshall had a chance to read the speech in detail before delivery.

Lord Louis Mountbatten is being seriously considered for the post of British Ambassador to Russia after he winds up his affairs in India. The idea of appointing Lord Mountbatten to Washington after Sir Oliver Franks deals with European recovery affairs has been given up. Lord Mountbatten is regarded as an ace trouble shooter by the British Foreign Office.

General Douglas MacArthur's aides are worried about the possibility of a new political crisis in Japan in the midst of the Republican nomination campaign .The present Japanese Cabinet was installed under pressure from General MacArthur's headquarters and is extremely shaky. Some insiders are predicting the Cabinet's fall within a matter of weeks.

The British are putting a very high price on suggestions that they stay in Palestine until a settlement is worked out. London is insisting on immediate cash payment to meet its occupation and police costs, plus ironclad assurance that the U. S. will underwrite any future Palestine settlement.

How to take 12 worries off your mind

THE FIRST-OF-THE-MONTHS, when the bills fall due, are worrisome days for many of us.

But here's a way you can lighten that pull on your pursestrings—starting in 1958 and continuing for as long as you like:

Invest in U. S. Security Bonds. Start putting aside part of everything you earn now—today.

Ten years from today, you'll start collecting—collecting four dollars for every three you put in.

You can save this patriotic, automatic way by joining your firm's Payroll Savings Plan. If you're not on a payroll, you can enroll in the Bond-A-Month Plan through your bank.

Won't it be wonderful, having worry-free first-of-the-months for yourself and family?

P. S. Every bond you buy helps stabilize prices. Every dollar invested in Bonds retires an equal amount in inflationary credit.

Sunday, May 9 is Mother's Day—the year's most sentimental occasion. Everywhere, grateful sons and daughters will be paying affectionate tribute to Mother, greeting her with gifts and deluxe Mother's Day cards like these, blossoming with roses and perfumed satin tinsels.

Mothers Day Talk Sunday Over The Methodist Hour

The pastor of one of the largest churches in Methodism, Dr. Paul W. Quillian, First Methodist Church, Houston, will be heard Mother's Day on the Methodist Hour network radio program. He will speak on "The Holy Bonds of Matrimony."

This is a part of the series on "The Teachings of Jesus and the Present Scene" presented by this program which seeks to call the attention of the people to the necessity of living today according to what Jesus said and taught.

One of the most popular features of this early Sunday morning radio program is the presentation each week of the old gospel melodies of Methodism by the Methodist Hour choir. To be heard on this Mother's Day program will be the favorite "My Mother's Bible." This outstanding choir is under the direction of John D. Hoffman with George L. Hamrick as the organist.

Dr. Quillian is not only pastor of a downtown city church, he is also a leader in civic and church activities. Several times he has been a delegate to the General and Jurisdictional Conferences of his church and this year he has been named one of the delegates from Methodism to the World Council of Churches, which meeting will be held in Europe this summer.

Dr. Quillian may be heard over station KGNC at 7:30 on Sunday morning May 9th.

SERVEL Lasts Longer Because It Freezes With No Moving Parts!

Yes, that's right! Servel DOES have a proven permanency vouched for by thousands of Panhandle people. Owner after owner tells of Servel Gas Refrigerators which have given up to 15 years of uninterrupted, faithful freezing. An owner of a 1934 Servel Gas Refrigerator says he has not spent a single penny for maintenance of any kind. Furthermore it is as silent as the day it was first put into service.

The reason for Servel's long life is its method of freezing with NO MOVING PARTS. All the work is done by a tiny, low cost natural (or liquid) gas flame. So there's nothing to wear out or get noisy.

But dependability and silence are just the start, for Servel is also a beauty. It's modern cabinet styling is unexcelled and its convenience is all one could ask for. It has plenty of ice cubes in its trigger-release trays. It has a convenient Servel meat storage tray. It has dew-action vegetable fresheners . . . a handy egg tray and flexible interior arrangement with sliding shelves adjustable to eleven different positions. Plastic coating on shelves keeps them rust-free, scratch-free and makes them easy to keep clean.

And, Servel's nationally famous low operating cost drops even more in the Panhandle. For we Panhandle folks, luckily, live near the heart of the world's largest gas fields and so enjoy unusually low natural gas rates.

To see a Servel is to want a Servel . . . with good reason why!

Prexy Announces Grad Speakers

Dr. Paul G. Wassenich and Dr. D. M. Wiggins have been chosen as speakers for the 1948 commencement program, Dr. J. A. Hill announced last week

Dr. Wassenich has been selected as speaker for the baccaulaureate service Sunday, May 23. He is director of the Texas Bible Chair at Autsin. The service will begin at 10 a. m. on that day and will be held in the Administration Building Auditoroum.

For the commencement service Thursday, May 27 Dr. Wiggins, president of Texas College of Mines will be the main speaker.

Dr. Wiggins is a native of Canadian, Texas, and has been president of the College of Mines for about 10 years, Dr. Hill said. He is a former professor of education at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

He also taught during the summer session at West Texas State for two years.

The farm bloc in Congress is splitting over the success of Southern Congressmen in getting the oleomargarine tax repeal measure to the House floor. Southerners now fear that dairy-State delegations may oppose aid for cotton and tobacco. The threatened split may block consideration at this session of a long-range farm program.

Top-flight businessmen may be called upon to enlist in an --industrial reserve corps," which is being suggested by important Government officials. The idea would be to use industrialists as a reserve just as the Army, Navy and Air Force have officer reserves. One aim of the plan is to get around the difficulty in drafting able businessmen into public service.

General Dwight Eisenhower is becoming rather emphatic in private conversation about his determination to refuse a draft from either political party. About the only way he could be persuaded to run would be if he were nominated on both tickets.

Speaker Martin and Majority Leader Charles Halleck are losing some of their grip on the House, after maintaining tight control so far. They have been unable to subdue the oleomargarine bloc and the group that wants to raise the pay of Government workers or to keep the House Labor Committee quiet.

MRS. M. B. BROWN HOSTESS TO PLEASANTVIEW H.D.C.

A group song "Texas Our Texas" opened the meeting of the Pleasantview Home Demonstration Club on Thursday, April 22, in the home of Mrs. M. B. Brown.

A poem "Spring Morning" was read by Mrs. Earl Burtz. Each member answered roll call with "An Interesting Spot in Texas I've Visited.".

Mrs. A. B. Haynes, Jr., reported on finances. She also reminded us of our part in inviting ex-members and visitors to our tea to be held in the home of Mrs. Albert Meyer, May 12. Two topics were selected to be turned in to the council for study next year. We voted to donate $10 to C A R E for a French baby. Mrs. Cristler Crain expressed her gratitude in our having selected her to attend the school in work simplification.

Mrs. M. B. Brown was in charge of the program, "Texas, the Lone Star State. It was in three parts and given by Mrs. A. B. Haynes, Jr. Mrs. John Jennings and Mrs. Cristler Crain.

Refreshments of tuna sandwiches, cherry nut cake, jello with whipped cream, salted nuts and coffee were served to Mrs. Morris Abbott, guest, and the following members: Mrs. Joe Currie, Mrs. Henry Meyer, Mrs. Tom Moore, Mrs. J. Russia's submarine navy is not coming along quite as fast as the Soviet planned and the U. S. feared. Russia got from the Germans some of the most effective submarines known and also obtained both German shipyards and technicians. Latest reports to Washington, however, indicate that the submarine-building program is bogging down.

Without even appearing on the scene, the Russians are making progress in getting their ideas planted in the Middle East, where U. S. and Britain have valuable and strategic oil holdings .Russian spadework in the Middle East countries is being done by staffs of Marshal Tito's Yugoslav embassies, all with Moslems on the pay roll.

U. S .ocupation officials in Germany have received reports that a pro-Communist government will be proclaimed in the Russian zone before the end of May. When that happens, Russians will give Eastern Germany a new currency, too, ending any chance of unifying the four occupation zones.

Congress Finds That Strong Air Force Is Needed

Congressional enthusiasm for a big air force is understandable for two very different reasons. First, it is highly desirable for political purposes in an election year—the air force is on a strictly volunteer basis, and apparently does not need the draft to fill out its ranks. Second, and far more important, is the feeling that a powerful U. S. aerial striking force would be one of the best deterrents to a possible aggressor and that, if worst came to worst, it would enable us to get in a decisive blow at the outset.

This view is not shared in all military quarters. Secretary Forrestal has protested against laying what he believes to be too much stress on one arm. The Army and Navy top brass are naturally interested in getting as much as they can for their services. General Bradley and others have presented the case for big-scale ground forces. However, Congress, which shudders at the thought of universal military training now, is obviously going all out for military aviation.

This has led to renewed interest in an old argument. Prior to the last war, there was a more or less widely held theory that air power might make land armies virtually obsolete, by destroying an enemy's industrial and war potential and thus affecting an early decision from the skies. The theory was most persuasively presented by an Italian general who wrote a book about it which was read with care and respect in all war ministries of the world. It had a strong influence on the thinking of Mussolini and Hitler. As bloody events proved, the Italian general and his devotees were fatally wrong. The bombers of all the belligerents did terrific damage, but it was never decisive. Allied officers were amazed at the war's end when they found out the extent to which German factories had kept producing in the face of virtually unopposed bombing. And England was able to keep on fighting in the early days when the Luftwaffe blackened her skies and she had only a pitiful handful of RAF planes to send against them.

However, the fact that a theory proved wrong once does not mean that it will always be wrong. We—and the other powers—will have infinitely superior planes, judged by range and speed. And those planes will have infinitely superior weapons to carry to enemy centers if there is another war. The A bomb, of course, is the terrible giant in this field. It may be within the realm of possibility that a country with sufficient weapons of that character, and with the right kind of air fleets to transport them at the very outbreak of hostilities, could strike a blow within a day or two from which the enemy could not recover, and could finally decide the issue within 30 to 90 days.

In these times , air-power is not limited to humanly-piloted aircraft. Part of our prepardness program—like that of the defense programs of all major nations—will lie in the development of guided missiles and related weapons. Congress will undoubtedly vote large sums for this purpose. It is estimated that five to 15 years will pass before really accurate missiles can be produced, and before long ranges will be possible. But they, like bacteriological and other types of chemical and scientific warfare, cannot be disregarded in the calculations we are making.

There has been much guessing as to how many A bombs we now have, after several years of intense production. Only a few men in the country know that, and they aren't talking. But so-called "informed estimates" say that we certainly have not more than a few hundred, and that we may have only a few dozen. That in itself could be a reassuring sign. If every A bomb represents such a tremendous expenditure of money, manpower and materials as that indicates, it is probable that other nations are a long way from having them. In this connection comes Mr. Forrestal's statement that Russia understands the process, but hasn't got the production facilities.

So little by little, our armanent program is shaping up. There will be a vast enlargement of our air strength, coupled with a vast step-up in research. There will be a very limited draft, and the hope here is that it will encourage enlistments to the point where relatively few young men need be called involuntarily. And there will, of course, be a considerable increase in military orders for conventional weapons.

The fact that top military men take the claims of airpower enthusiasts with a grain of salt is natural. A good commander cannot be an optimist. He must plan on the worst, and prepare himself as best he can for every conseivable contingency. And, like everyone else, the military leaders ask for more than they expect to get. So it is only reasonable to assume that much of the testimony on the armament program represents the very human fault of exaggeration.

At the top, there is said to be more and more feeling that a show of strength and determination by us will eventually persuade Russia to sit down and negotiate the world's differences. That is certainly the hope of all nations now.

Radio Stations As Thick as Flees in Panhandle Sector

New radio stations have sprung up thick and fast over the Panhandle this spring.

Two new stations are in operation in Amarillo, one in Dumas, one in Dalhart; one each has been granted for Hereford, Perryton and Shamrock. A second station has been granted for Dumas.

Long on the air are two stations in Amarillo; one in Plainview, two in Lubbock, one in Lamesa, one in Childress, one in Littlefield, one in Borger, one in Pampa, and one is about ready in Levelland.

With all these stations clattering for the hearer's attention, the newspapers will have a much stronger following than ever before, and the dailies will have their territories supreme.

Also placing in a field of 18 contestants and receiving awards were Priscilla Rogers, fourth in essays; and Jack Walker, fourth in the short story contest.

The two-day journalism affair was opened in Radford Memorial Auditorium at McMurry, Thursday morning at 10 and the first session was highlighted by an address by Loula Grace Erdman, assistant professor of English at WT and a novelist who spoke on the field of Creative Writing.

Those making the trip from West Texas State as delegates were T. C. Brown, Vaughn Vandergriff, Mack Bush, Don Turner, Bargaret Lair, Edith Morrow, Arletta Williams, Mary Jim Vincent and publications director Jerry Malin.

Prospects have improved for the proposed dam on the Canadian River, according to Congressman Eugene Worley.

In order to furnish a means of flood control for the Red River, and to provide irrigation waters for the north plains as well as a water supply for Amarillo, the dam was proposed several years ago.

In spite of the fact that the project has been rejected by army engineers, Mr. Worley believes that urgent need for additional water supply and flood control will make the project feasible.

Sigs To Honor Mothers May 8

Dr. D. D. Foreman, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Amarillo, is to be the main speaker for the Twelfth Annual Alpha Sigma Xi Mother's Day program to be held on the campus Saturday morning, according to the president of Alpha Sigma Xi fraternity, Richard Miller.

Also on the program will be Charlotte Ingham Word, mother of Bob Word, junior from Clarendon. She will play several of her own piano compositions as part of the ceremony. Mr. Word is quite well known throughout the Panhandle for her musical works.

Over 1200 mothers have been sent invitations to the program, Richard Miller said, and the club hopes that many of them will attend the service, which will begin at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in the Auditorium of the Administration Building.

Before the program a tea for all mothers will be held in the Home Economics Department on the third floor of the Ad Building.

Bill Hutchinson, sophomore from Pampa, will also be on the program, and will sing one of the traditional Mother's Day songs. Bob Sweny, sophomore from Stratford, will be master of ceremonies for the program.

H. R. Fulton, former member of Alpha Sigma Xi, has donated corsages to be presented to the mother that traveled the farthest, who will be given an orchid, and the mother with the most children at WT, who will be presented with a gardenia corsage.

Former Canyon Man Died Saturday From Heart Attack

SWEETWATER, May 2—Funeral services were held at the First Methdist Church in Sweetwater Sunday afternoon for T. P. Johnson, 45, Sweetwater civic leader and a native of Canyon who was found dead in his hotel room at Fort Worth Saturday morning. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Mr. Johnson was district manager for Texas Electric Service Company in Sweetwater and had been in Fort Worth since Wednesday attending a company meeting. He had talked by telephone with A. L. McSpadden, Colorado City TES manager, at 7:30 Saturday morning, and had made arrangements to pick McSpadden and others up at 9 o'clock for the trip home. When he failed to keep the appointment, McSpadden went to his room and found him lying across the bed. Doctors set the time of his death at about 8 a. m. Mr. Johnson had been apparently in good health.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. T Johnson of Canyon, Mr. Johnson was born near Canyon on May 30, 1902. He attended Canyon schools and received his B. S. degree from West Texas State Teachers College there in 1923. He taught one year at Littlefield, two years at Amarillo, and then entered Texas A&M College to take a degree in electrical Frances Lynn Townes, sophomore, from Amarillo, is also in the production, cast as a younger sister to Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Arabel Moulton-Barrett.

Mr. Moore will bring to the Amarstage an ideal background for the exacting characterization of the famous British poet, whose courtship of Elizabeth Barrett remains one of the most beautiful romances in history.

He has studied with Lady Constance Benson in England and while he was an active member of The Little Theatre at Bath he was selected by Lawrence Housman to play Prince Albert in several unpublished sketches about Queen Victoria.

The trip was very interesting and educational for the four boys, James Inman, James Bible, Jones Hales, Albert Craig and the advisor, T. L. Devin. Their first stop was at the Chester Eliff Jersey Farm at Tulia, to practice on some good Jersey cows. They then traveled to Fort Worth where they spent Thursday night.

The boys were introduced to College life Friday night when they attended a midnight pep rally held by the Freshmen.

After the contest Saturday the boys visited the Campus of A&M and the college farms. Objects of interest were the Hay and Grain Drying Tests, the breeding livestock and poultry, and the equipment and barns, etc.

When the results were given the boys left for Fort Worth where they spent Saturday night. They returned home Sunday night.

"It was a very worthwhile trip and I am proud of the boys," stated Mr. T. L. Devin, advisor.

Preparations Are Made to Receive Campus Changes

By Guy Brant

Total devastation! Thats the word to describe the condition of the campus of CHS; in places that is. At the first crack of dawn on Monday morning o'l shoveling Sam with Horace Carter at the controls was out preparing the campus for the new buildings which have been made possible by the bond issue which the citizens of Canyon voted on last Saturday.

Late Monday afternoon while loading uprooted trees on a truck in order to carry them off a fire plug was broken off and in a matter of minutes water had covered practically all the grade school playground and run down eighth streeth and it was later reported by Donald Davis to be about one-hundred to two-hundred yards past the county barns on the dirt road connecting with eighth street.

Work repairing the plug began immediately. It seems that the break is not as serious as might be expected although it will take time to fix it. The fireplug had to be leaded back into place.

The grounds between the high school and grade school buildings is a scene of complete destruction with all the trees uprooted and sidewalks broken and moved from between the buildings.

All this was in preparation for the moving of the new cafeteria and classroom buildings which CHS has acquired from Government Surplus.

Workmen began also to lay plans Monday afternoon for the digging of the foundations of the structures to be moved in.

It's Not Time

Once every year about this time a certain little friend comes to visit with each and everyone of us. His name, if you haven't guessed, is Spring Fever. And along with the little guy comes the feeling that school will soon be out and of course we have that old tendency to slack up on our work.

Yes, there are only three more weeks of school, after this one, and it's wonderful to sit and dream of those three months of vacation from books, teachers and the school house but let's remember that the school doors aren't closed yet and until they are let's all keep up the work. It won't be long now.

F F A Boys Elect New Sweetheart

Verna Davenport, senior, was elected by the FFA boys to be their sweetheart and to attend the Parent and Son banquet, May 20. Since their former sweetheart, Merry Borden withdrew from school, the boys decided to elect another sweetheart. Verna was selected last Wednesday morning during a FFA meeting.

Verna was football queen of 1946, football queen attendant of 1947, member of FHA three years, member of the chorus two years and was elected prettiest girl of the senior class.

Eugene Debs was five times the Socialist Party's nominee for president of the U. S.

Students desirous of making application for the scholarship will do so through their Journalim or English teachers in the school. In the event of several applications, the teacher, with the help of one or two members of the school faculty, will choose the applicant to represent the school. Basis of choice shall be: grades, especially in English ,writing experience, ambition, character and initiative.

A PENNY SAVED

The United States Treasury Department has asked the staff to tell you about the savings bonds and stamps that are on sale at the bank and postoffice.

Many of us thought that since the war is over the government has quit selling war bonds. Well, they haven't. They have changed them to savings bonds, but they still mean the same thing.

"We are divided on many things—party politics, measures dealing with our domestic economy, civil rights, foreign policy, etc.

"We cannot eradicate these differences by any master stroke or decree. We CAN rededicate ourselves to making the Savings Bond Program a source of national unity and strength. All Americans can agree on Savings Bonds as a source of financial security for themselves and a stabilizing factor in the nation."

Fifty-Two Make Honor Roll

Softball Battles Are Weeks Attractions

Sport activities in Canyon High School are highlighted by the intramural baseball games played each day at noon.

In the first game of the season, a highly star-studded eighth grade batted in eight runs to beat the freshmen 8-2. The juniors blanked the seventh grade by a score of 24-0. In the senior-sophomore ball game, the seniors gained a 10-2 decision. In the freshman-seventh game, the freshmen trounced the lower classmen, 12-3. Monday, the juniors won over the eighth grade by a decisive score of 9-1.

Leading in the base-ball tournament the juniors and seniors are the favorites. This tournament is under the direction of Coach R. D. Wheelock.

SOCIETY SUE

Canyon High School's annual Junior-Senior Banquet brought on some new suits for the boys and dresses for the girls. Among the boys sporting new suits were Max Bellah and Marvin Fite.

Has anyone noticed those green and white or are they red and white, well anyway have you noticed those loud saddle-oxfords of Guy Brants. Speaking of shoes Rusty Davis and Marvin Fite had new shoes for the banquet.

Ballet shoes seem to be the rage around school this week. Among those with new ones are Rita Guntinter, Martha Jean Avent, Joan Morton, Betty Miller, and Ema Gene Zachry.

Mrs. Ball's pretty new striped dress really has been turning heads around the campus this week.

That pink blouse of Mrs. Bell's looks pretty with her black ballerina skirt.

Bow ties were the talk of the banquet. Those wearing them are Rusty Davis, Marvin Cornette, Donald Davis, and Clifford Burtz.

Martha Wilson had an aqua blue evening dress with a hoop skirt. Mable Graham wore a pink dress with a ruffled skirt over hoops.

Leatha Harwood wore a lime green taffeta evening dress with a bustle affect in the back.

So many pretty dresses were noticed at the banquet that all could not be mentioned in this column.

Classes Select Boys and Girls

Classes met Monday, May 3, to select the prettiest girl and the ugliest boy to compete in a contest planned by the seniors to arouse interest in their box supper to be held May 7 at eight o'clock.

Seniors elected Dicky Barrett and Verna Davenport for their candidates.

Billy Cleavinger and June Jenings will be the Juniors representatives.

Freshmen chose Robert McClendon and Barbara Head.

The eighth grade selected L. G. Campbell and Nelda Ruthart.

Joel Aldrich Is Guest Speaker

Qualities for Success Are Pointed Out at Banquet

Self-confidence, sincerity and friendliness were the qualities each individual should have to attain success in life as pointed out by Rev. Joel Aldrich of Tulia, guest speaker at the Junior-Senior Banquet held last Friday night.

Jerre Inman, president of the Junior class, served as master-of-ceremonies. Don Hickman welcomed the seniors and Joan Morton gave the response. Decorations of tiny elves and branches of bridal's wreath were placed on the table in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria where the banquet was held and nut cups made to resemble small black high top hats were taken as souvenirs by the guests present.

Dance In Randall Hall

The guests went to the ballroom of Randall Hall where they danced to the music of the Palo Duro Playboys. The floorshow featuring Rosie Bate's dancing and Bill Hutchinson's singing helped carry out the theme of a nightclub. Decorations of balloons hung to the ceiling and mannikins standing in front of a lattice and roses also expressed the theme. The balloons were torn from the ceiling and burst as the party ended.

Special guests at the affair were the faculty and school board of Canyon High.

Overmans Show Art and Rythym

Mr .and Mrs. Wally Overman presented the act Painting with Rhythm to the students of Canyon High, Monday, May 3. Mr. Overman, brilliant artist and entertainer, drew florescent colored pictures and Mrs. Overton played the piano while he worked.

First of all he showed how easy it was to draw. Then he drew Roy McCarter's and Miss Lurline Bowman's pictures. He produced a very true likeness of the fat man which reminded everyone of some portly character he knew.

At this time Mrs. Overman took over the program and played, "I Don't Want Him, You Can Have Him, He's Too Fat For Me," "Baby Face," and "I'll Dance At Your Weddings."

Returning to the stage Mr. Overman, in his cartooning, took the group along with him on a travel tour. He drew a sketch of mountains, islands with palm trees, rivers, snow covered landscapes, and concluded the program with a picture of Uncle Sam. A thundering applause from the students indicated their appreciation of the afternoon's program.

The Junior class wishes to thank T. A. Black's Drygoods Store for the use of their mannikins in decorating the ballroom for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Agriculture Boys Apply For State Farmers Degrees

Four Ag boys of Canyon High are applying for State Farmers degrees. They are Donald Davis, Clifford Burtz, James Bible, and Jones Hales.

This State Farmers degree indicates that the boy has invested $250 in an ag project program, cleared the amount, reinvested the money, shown outstanding leadership, held office in the club, led a group discussion for forty minutes, and achieved various other worthy accomplishments.

The boys' application will be sent to the regional and district officials to consider when they met in Hereford, May 12 and 13. Also the boys will be required to be present for oral examinations.

Winners at Hereford will go to the area meeting at Lubbock where Area officials will select 60 State Farmers. Certificates given there must be sent on to the State for final approval.

Grade Notes

An opereta, "The Farmer's Dell" was presented to the High School in a special assembly, Friday, April 30 at 3:00 p. m. in which approximately 180 children of the first, second and third grades participated. A colorful display of fruits, vegetables ,flowers, crows, scarecrows, the snug bug in a rug, wind and butterflies were shown as a small choir sang behind the animals and flowers. The dance illustrated the planting of the farmer's garden and how it came up. Everyone enjoyed the operetta.

In Mrs. Black's first grade, Lorraine Wallen and Charles Moore are absent with the mumps. Betty Sue New has recently returned from an absence with the chicken pox.

Don Walters moved to Amarillo from Mrs. Davis' room.

In Mrs. Collins' first grade, there are five students absent with the mumps.

Mrs. Murrells students are beginning their last unit of the year, a study of birds.

Frank Lill returned to Mrs. Walsh's room after a week's illness of mumps.

Martha and Arthur Harding were honored with a birthday party Monday evening given by Mrs. A. W. Harding in her home. Mrs. Dan K. Usery and her third grade room were guests. Baloons with whistles were favors and ice cream and birthday cake were refreshments.

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows was established in the United States in 1819.

What is now the state of Maine was the first American region to build a church.

The distillers feared that those grain restrictions would take some people's breath away.

Cheer up! Spring's coming.

H. Ryan, of Lubbock, visited the class and spoke to the group for some time.

Cloyse Dean Wiseman expressed his appreciation at being here and introduced Wilbur Ray Dunk who emphasized the necessity of obtaining the State Farmer's degree. He declared that not only was obtaining the degree an honor one could cherish through future years, but also the knowledge gained in striving for such a high standard would be of great value financially.

Mr. H. O. Ryan suggested ways and means by which the club could earn money to defray expense for trips; chief of these means is the securing of subscriptions to some of the well-known farm journals.

Sears Roebuck and Company is offering a $100 scholarship to 12 senior, high school boys of the State for further study in Texas Tech. Application for the scholarship should be turned in to Mr. T. L. Devin or Mr. E. A. Wooten immediately.

Wise-Tate Rites Read Saturday Home Ceremony

In an impressive double-ring ceremony, Mary Wise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wise of Happy, and William Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Tate of Panhandle, were married Saturday morning, May 1.

Rev. James Watson, Methodist pastor of Happy, read the service in the home of the bride's parents. Joyce Simms of West Texas College, accompanied by Mrs. J. L. Gilmore sang "Because" as a pre-nuptial prelude. Mrs. Gilmore also played the traditional wedding marches.

An arch of white and blue carnations enhanced by lemon foliage and flanked by wicker baskets of white stock formed the decorative setting for the ceremony.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Betty McCarley of West Texas College.

Harold Wech, also of West Texas College, was the best man, and Janet Ann Taylor, little cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white crepe, street length dress with matching accessories. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a tiara of pearls, and she carried a white Bible adorned by four white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and approximately sixty guests were feted at a reception. Assisting in the tea service were aunts of the bride, Mrs. G. T. Hanners of Lovington, N. M., who presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. Gilmore of Canyon, who served the tiered wedding cake, and Miss Anna Belle Schaeffer, who served the salad.

The couple are at home in Canyon where they are attending West Texas State. Mrs. Tate was graduated from Happy High school before entering college, and Mr. Tate was graduated from Panhandle High school and served two years in the army.

Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held in the home of Mrs. Jeannette Robbins at 7 p. m. on the last Thursday in July.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, ice tea and mints were served during the social hour.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

I want to enter a protest against cafes that announce on the menue, "chicken and dumplings" and you order it and it turns out that the so-called dumplings actually are noodles.

Recently, your columnist visited Arkansas, and when the bus rolled through El Dorado, that oil city had just been visited by a terrific hailstorm. Street lights were smashed; dents could be seen in the steel tops of automobiles; nearly all the panes of glass in a hot-house were shattered. Hundreds of the hailstones were still to be seen in the gutters and on the lawns and they were almost as big as the proverbial hen-egg.

Many years ago, London was thronged. The British Empire was going to crown a new king. Of course, the man who attracted the most attention was the monarch as he rode through the streets in a golden carriage drawn by beautiful horses and escorted by dukes and duchesses and by plumed guards.

There was one man in the crowd who attracted considerable attention. He was the heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

Unnoticed in the throng was a middle-aged man, with thoughtful brow and a mustache and glasses.

The king who was crowned that day is dead. The heavyweight champion is forgotten. But the world will long remember the unnoted man who stood in the throng for he was Rudyard Kipling.

3,000 Band Students Swarm Over WT Campus Weekend

Plainview and Amarillo Senior High School bands were both awarded the coveted Special Award laques as they won first division honors in each of the contests in concert playing, sight-reading and marching.

Both these school bands were awarded the plaques, the only two aworded in the two-day Interscholastic League Music Competition Festival, instrumental division, held here on the campus of W.T Friday and Saturday.

Over 3000 high school and junior high school band and orchestra members roamed over the campus during the contests and as President J. A. Hill said, "certainly added much color to the campus."

Brightly colored uniforms, cap guns, water guns, pretty drum majorettes and music set the pattern for the monstrous festival.

According to M. J. Newman, director of WT bands and regional director of music contests for the Interscholastic League, there were 36 major organizations here during the week-end contest, including bands and orchestras from schools over the entire Panhandle.

Thomas Jefferson was governor of Virginia from 1777 to 1781.

Chickenpox More Than Doubled in Recent Years

With the incidence of chickenpox one hundred per cent higher than records indicate for a seven year median, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, issued a statement declaring, "It is a great mistake to treat even light cases of childhood diseases such as chickenpox, measles, mumps, scarlet fever or whooping cough as though they did not amount to much. That sort of treatment makes it possible for these diseases to sperad and cause serious outbreaks among children and their resulting impaired resistance makes them easy victims to other forms of infection.

"Some of the most serious outbreaks of chickenpox have been traced to mild cases—that is, cases so light that the doctor was not called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate and play with other children. In others, after they have been kept at home for a few days, they have returned to school and have scattered these germs among their schoolmates. Strict isolation of chickenpox patients is the only means by which the spread can be controlled and parents should cooperate fully in isolating a child as long as the doctor thinks it advisable."

The State Health Officer said that the family doctor is the best judge of the seriousness of such childhood diseases, and suffering and anxiety will be avioded if the doctor's advice is sought and followed throughout the course of the illness.
